MIDDLEBURY

Henry F. Joy died at four o'clock Thursday morning from cancer, after a ong illness and great suffering. Mr. Joy was about 50 years of age, a native of Ballsbury, and had lived in Middlebury sbout 27 years. In the earlier part of his residence here he was for some years bookkeeper for the old firm of Smith & Allen lumber manufacturers, Later he went into business for himself and for about 20 years was successfully engaged in the clothing, men's furnishing and hoe trades on Main street. Mr. Joy's Illness began about two years ago and his condition became worse very gradually. It was for only a few months past that he was unable to attend to his business. About two months ago he married Miss Elizabeth Noland of Middlebury, who survives him; also his stepfather, David LaMorder; and two halfbrothers, John and William LaMorder, who live in Connecticut and Massachusetts. Mr. Joy was a member of the various Masonic bodies in town. The funeral was held at his late home at two o'clock Saturday afternoon, conducted by the Rev. G. M. Moody, the Methodist pas tor, and the interment was in the West cemetery of this village.
